$100,000 Involved After Wheat
Board Money Vanishes In Mails

WINNIPEG (CP)—City police today reported three persons have been arrested and will face conspiracy charges in connection with 190 Canadian Wheat Board cheques, believed valued at more than $100,000, which disappeared after being mailed to two western points.

The cheques were destined for Cavalier, Man., and the Jackfish Lake area in northern Saskatchewan.

Honored In Death

Pfc. William Thompson, New York, who fought delaying action in Korea which cost him his life, has been awarded Congressional Medal of Honor. Twenty-two-year-old Negro is first of his race to win highest U.S. award since Spanish-American War. Wounded repeatedly, he fought while comrades retreated to safety. (AP Wirephoto.)

In custody here on charges of conspiracy are William Kaplan, 56, and his daughter, Annette Kaplan, 24, both of Winnipeg. Police said Harry Slavim, 37, of no fixed abode, had been arrested in Calgary on their request, and is being returned here to face a conspiracy charge.

SOME WORTHY

Police said some of the cheques are valued as low as $2.50, others as high as $1,200.

The case broke yesterday when one of the missing cheques, valued at $967.81 and made out to Mrs. D. St. Amant, of Jackfish Lake, was cashed at a jewelry store here. The cheque later was seized by police.

Later, it was revealed three other cheques had been cashed in Winnipeg with forged signatures. Total value of cheques seized by police so far is more than $4,000.

Canada May Reduce Flow Of Newsprint To U.S.

OTTAWA (CP)—Some cut-back in the North American supply of Canadian newsprint may be necessary to meet emergency allocations for North Atlantic countries, Production Minister Howe said today in the Commons.

He said, however, that every effort will be made to minimize the impact of this cut-back.

Mr. Howe brought up the question of newsprint during discussion of Defense Production Department estimates.

He said an international committee, sitting in Washington, has recommended an initial allocation of 3,000 tons of newsprint to fight "the flames of Communism" in France.

Of this amount, Canadian mills will supply 2,500 tons.

He said his department's pulp and paper director, R. M. Fowler of Montreal, has been ordered to obtain this amount from Canadian mills. The newsprint will be purchased by the government's Canadian Commercial Corporation on behalf of France at prices currently prevailing in North America, having in mind also other costs that may be involved.

O.K. SURPLUS FOOD PLAN

City Finance Committee, Split Over Issue, Gives Its Approval

Mrs. Barbara Green, a volunteer social worker, today won her battle to give surplus food and vegetables to the city's needy.

Finance committee, following a sizzling debate, agreed to let Mrs. Green have a stall in the market, effective immediately, on a trial basis.

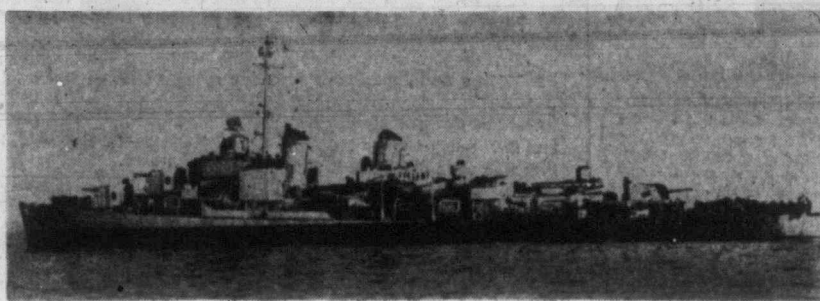

Their action over-rides that of the welfare committee, which Friday referred the matter to the Council of Social Agencies. A letter from Mrs. Green urging immediate action was also received.

Agreement was worked out in negotiations between Kenneth Younger, Britain's Minister of State, and President Truman's special envoy, John Foster Dulles.

Whole Team Missing
VIENNA (AP)—The entire seven-man water polo team and the technical advisor of the Belgrade "Sever" Swimming Club disappeared in Austria Monday and have been missing since, it was reported today.

The Austrian interior ministry this morning rejected rumors that the missing men had applied for asylum with Tyrolean authorities.

The eight were part of a 20-man group which split up after a meeting with the Innsbruck Swimming Club last week-end in Innsbruck, capital of the French-occupied province of Tyrol.

U.N. TANK COLUMNS ROAM AT WILL OVER 'IRON TRIANGLE'

'Foe Putting Up Battle In East; Planes Active

By OLEN CLEMENTS

TOKYO (AP)—Allied tank columns roamed at will over the length of the Communists' shattered iron triangle in Korea today. But on the eastern front Communists turned and fought.

United Nations patrols probed through intense artillery fire to outposts of the new Red defense line north of Yangju and Inje on the east central front.

In some sectors the Allies were kept busy Thursday beating off a series of North Korean counter-attacks. The U.S. Eighth Army reported only one advance of as much as a mile.

The picture along the east was in marked contrast to the situation in the west. Giant tanks, literally covered with riflemen, rumbled the length of the triangle Wednesday to Pyongyang. They were almost unopposed.

RETURN SAFELY

The two big columns of more than 100 tanks returned at night after sweeping beyond the border shattered city.

Tank forces and infantrymen again made "little or no contact" with the Chinese in the triangle area Thursday, the Eighth Army reported.

Further west U.N. patrols fought with small groups of Communists, leading one Allied officer to comment:

"The Reds haven't left us yet, but they are cringing."

The Eighth Army reported the Reds threw a series of probing attacks at the U.N. lines in the area northwest of Yangju.

The Allied line was under artillery fire all day. An intensive barrage fell north of Yangju. Patrols moving out well ahead of the lines were hit by heavy mortar fire.

ARROW-TYPE TRAFFIC SIGNAL WILL BE INSTALLED TOMORROW

The first arrow-type traffic signal for Victoria will be included in the four-corner signal to go into operation tomorrow morning at 10 at Belleville and Government Streets, Sgt. Brooke Douglass, head of the city police traffic section, reported today.

He said that three approaches will have the regular green, amber and red signals. The arrow will direct motorists going South on Government Street. Sgt. Douglass said that if the green arrow is showing against the red light, south-bound motorists can make a right turn into Belleville. They must come to a full stop first and can then turn right if the way is clear.

H-Bomb Near Says Man Who Saw Eniwetok Tests

(Congressman Melvin Price, of Illinois, who saw the recent A-bomb test at Eniwetok, has written the following first-hand appraisal of its significance. He is a member of both the joint congressional committee on atomic energy and the house armed services committee.)

By REP. MELVIN PRICE

Copyright, 1951, by United Press

WASHINGTON—I believe we will be successful in building the hydrogen bomb.

I believe the H-bomb will be a vital element in the strength of the free world.

I base these beliefs on the atomic test I witnessed at Eniwetok coupled with information I got there and elsewhere.

Experiments contributing to progress of the H-bomb highlighted the tests, one of which I saw, heard and felt from a nearby island. Results of the tests were successful even beyond advance prediction.

All the skill and knowledge and hard work of scientists at Los Alamos and elsewhere, and the tens of thousands of computations made both on paper and as a result of operating great calculating machines, converged together at Eniwetok atoll and made possible these experiments.

I believe the H-bomb program is going forward at a vigorous and satisfactory pace. But the hydrogen program was by no means the only vitally important factor involved in the Eniwetok tests.

We tried out certain new principles affecting ordinary atomic bombs, and the results indicate a large boost in the power of an atomic attack which the United States could launch in case of necessity.

The Sea Lark, owned by Global Fishing Co. of Seattle, radioed her engine went dead last night, but the message about shipping water did not come until this morning.

Captain of the vessel is Ben Bendixson, Seattle. The other 25 men aboard are Seattle residents, but company officials declined to reveal their names.

The Sea Lark left Seattle Saturday night. She was to go to False Pass, Alaska, to fish for salmon after stopping briefly at Kodiak.

Dispatch of the weather ship, skippered by Capt. J. A. Sleight, and manned by a primarily Victoria crew, was in accord with the recently-inaugurated scheme for integration of air-sea-rescue facilities for Canada.

The R.C.A.F.'s air-sea rescue squadron in Vancouver is in touch with the situation, but so far has not sent out any ships or planes. The navy at Esquimalt also is standing by.

Aid Racing To Ship Disabled Off B.C.

City Vessel, U.S. Planes Dispatched

The Victoria-based weather ship St-Catharines, is racing to the aid of the Seattle fishing vessel Sea Lark drifting helplessly 300 miles off Queen Charlotte Sound.

The 165-foot fishboat, with 26 men aboard, sent out an SOS today when gale force winds sent water over her stern as she wallowed in a nasty sea.

The St-Catharines was ordered to leave weather station Peter, 900 miles northwest of Victoria, by the local Transport Department agent, Tom Morrison.

Two U.S. Coast Guard planes—an amphibious PBY (Canso) and a B-17 Flying Fortress—were expected to reach the stricken vessel about mid-afternoon to look over the scene and advise the coast guard cutter Winona, which also is racing to aid the Sea Lark.

The Winona and the planes were sent from the U.S. Coast Guard Station at Port Angeles.

REACH SCENE SATURDAY

The operations officer at the Port Angeles coast guard station told the Victoria Daily Times the Winona and the St-Catharines likely will reach the Sea Lark sometime Saturday, depending on the speed they make in the choppy Pacific seas.

The Sea Lark, owned by Global Fishing Co. of Seattle, radioed her engine went dead last night, but the message about shipping water did not come until this morning.

Captain of the vessel is Ben Bendixson, Seattle. The other 25 men aboard are Seattle residents, but company officials declined to reveal their names.

Engineer Killed In Train Crash

MANKATO, Minn. (AP)—One man was killed and seven others were hurt when an Omaha railroad passenger train smashed head-on into a 92-car freight five miles south of here in today's early dawn.

Big Depot Planned

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver Province says today an army ordnance depot costing more than $2,000,000, a workshop of unknown size for the Royal Canadian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers, and other military installations, are planned for Coquitlam.

6-CENT BOOST IN PRICE OF WHEAT FOR HANDLING

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada today increased the price of wheat by 6 cents a bushel, effective immediately on domestic sales and on Aug. 1 on sales to foreign countries.

Trade Minister Howe announced the increase in the Commons and said the extra 6 cents will be in the nature of a "carrying charge" or handling charge, payable in addition to fixed international prices.

Nation Mourns, Tributes Canadian Navy's 'Nelson'

Canada's final tribute to her greatest naval hero is being planned for tomorrow when the flag-draped body of Admiral Percy Walker Nelles, C.B., L.D., is buried at sea from the deck of H.M.C.S. Sault Ste. Marie.

Flags across the nation will fly at half-mast as men of the silent service fire a final volley in tribute to the 59-year-old sea dog—often referred to as the "Nelson" of the Canadian navy—who died Wednesday at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Friday's service at sea will be held at 2:30. Private funeral services were held at 11:30 this morning.

"LAID FOUNDATION"

Tributes from all parts of Canada today included a message to Mrs. Nelles from Minister of Defense Brooke Claxton. Mr. Claxton said:

"Please receive on behalf of myself personally and of the Department of National Defense the deepest sympathy on the death of Admiral Nelles. As one of the first to enter the newly-created Canadian navy in 1908, he served his country steadfastly and honorably for 37 years."

"As Chief of Naval Staff from 1934 to 1945, he laid the foundation for the navy whose contributions in the time of peril were so magnificent and which owed so much to his inspiration."

"In the fulfillment of a splendid career he guided and directed the Canadian navy in the hour when it came of age and in the period of its greatest achievement. He will, I know, be remembered affectionately by all who served with him."

LATE ADMIRAL NELLES

Nelles headed the Royal Canadian Navy throughout most of the Second World War, and saw it grow from a fledgling force of a few ships to a swift, modern anti-submarine fleet that played a leading role in the Battle of the North Atlantic.

His appointment as admiral was announced simultaneously with his retirement on January 10, 1945, when he made his home here.

Sick, Tearful Premier Stresses Iran Poverty

TERAN (CP)—Premier Mohammad Mossadeq was too sick today to appear before Parliament. Associates said the Premier's weak heart was overtaxed by the nervous strain of his battle for nationalization of Iran's oil resources.

The emotional 70-year-old leader had been scheduled to speak to parliament, presumably giving a report on his first meeting last night with three British representatives who have come here to seek a place for their interests in the nationalized industry. Mossadeq burst into tears during the conference and sobbed as he described his country's poverty to B. R. Jackson, deputy board chairman of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

The first meeting was a courtesy call by the Britons on Mossadeq. Additional conferences were planned between five members of the Iranian government and four directors of Anglo-Iranian, the British-owned industry whose future is at stake.

Observers here consider that agreement on the agenda will be one of the knottiest problems. The Iranians will seek to have the talks based on the already signed-and-sealed law for the oil take-over.

Woman, Son Sought
ALERT BAY (CP)—Logger Thomas Hall today continued to lead the search for his wife and son, lost for six days in the wilderness near this B.C. coast community.

Mrs. Alma Hall, 28, of Saskatoon and her six-year-old son, Raymond, had been living at the logging camp where her husband is employed.

The missing pair was last seen near a waterfall and were believed to have drowned.

Fight Friday
NEW YORK (UP)—The 15-round heavyweight contenders' battle between Joe Louis and Lee Savold was postponed again today until tomorrow night, when it will be held in Madison Square Garden.

The British representatives will seek to make this law itself the basis of the talks, while agreeing only to the principle of nationalization.

Ruling On Taxes Boosts Deficiency In C.P.R. Revenue

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott's newly-announced withdrawal of a budget tax concession will increase the Canadian Pacific Railway's expected revenue "deficiency" for 1951, the company said today.

Company Counsel John L. O'Brien made the statement as he opened argument for the company in the railway's application to the Board of Transport Commissioners for a new 15-per-cent increase in freight rates.

The budget concession as originally proposed would have provided that the new 20-per-cent defense surcharge on corporation tax would not be allowed to reduce a company's income to less than 5 per cent of its employed capital.

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

COTSWOLD 'CUT-UPS'

CHIPPING CAMPDEN, Glos.—Touring the English country-side you often meet with the rather scornful observation from rural folk that it isn't in London, but in the villages and little towns that you find the true Britain. And in a very brief visit to this charming spot in the Cotswolds I have again been convinced of the truth of that remark.

For the 2,019 people who constitute the population of Chipping Campden are staging their own Festival week, which owes little in its inspiration either to the great show at South Bank or the fun-fair at Battersea Pleasure Gardens. Among the steep-gabled buildings of grey and honey-colored Cotswold stone, with the fruit blossom still on the trees, it is difficult to realize a more picturesque setting for the festivities which are to range from the "Olympic Games" to Scuttlebrook Wake.

ANCIENT AND MODERN

INCIDENTALLY, I confess I felt slightly rebuked for my somewhat slighting reflections upon the hand-weeding I witnessed at Bordesley when a local committee member proudly told me of the "Cavalade of Industry" which had opened the fête.

Designed to "show the industrial development of implements, processes and machinery in agriculture and horticulture throughout the ages," it flaunted the most up-to-date tractors and harvesters beside the old scythes and the ancient flail method of threshing. And he proudly told me that, while some still stick to the methods of their forefathers, "most 'Gloster' farmers be progressive."

AN ANACHRONISM

AFTER THAT, I didn't dare tell him that the sight of modern harvester-combines seemed somewhat incongruous in that Mile-long High Street, with its 14th-century Greville House, its 15th-century Grantham School, and its 17th-century Market Hall with the stone arches and beamed roof that stands in the middle of the street.

And I cannot refrain from mentioning the beautiful old Gothic church, with its 120-foot high west tower. I was intrigued by the remarkable monuments to Sir Baptist Hicks and his family, he having built the Market Hall and the quaint old Elizabethan almshouses. A still decipherable memorial brass to William Greville, wool merchant, and his wife, who died in 1401, is another clue to the age of this church, as are the 15th century altar frontals and cope of rare embroidery.

GAMES AND WAKES

A CARNIVAL by the delightful name of the "Scuttlebrook Wake" will have its climax in a wheelbarrow race through the length of the High Street, with a barrel of beer as the prize—and if I know anything of the spirit of Merrie England there will be competitors galore.

I only wish I could be here for the "Olympic Games" that are to be offered later this week. For they will be a revival of the original games started by King James the First in the year 1605 at Dover's Hill, which is now National Trust property. From what I have learned, they will be fully in keeping with the ancient atmosphere of Chipping Campden, even if they hardly conform to the spirit of the modern Olympic Games.

'OLYMPIC GAMES'

THERE ARE to be competitions in some of the less sedate old games like shin-kicking, climbing the greasy pole to win a leg of mutton—which will be a synthetic leg in these days of meat mollicules—and throwing the sheep. But the organizers view with some apprehension the outcome of the shin-kicking contest.

Up to the time of my visit, there has been no evidence that competitors have been getting their shins into trim by the old method of having them beaten with hammers and wooden clubs. But it is as well to mention that competitors this year are not being allowed to put gall on to iron-tipped working boots as they did in 1851, when so much damage was done to shins that the games had to be abandoned all of which suggests that the shins of England aren't what they used to be!

Dockers On Rampage

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (Reuters)—Day and night police patrols were ordered out in Wellington today to curb "violence and intimidation" in the raging labor-war along the country's waterfronts.

An official statement said the government was "deeply concerned" over brawls here Wednesday in which seven longshoremen were attacked, allegedly by members of the striking de-registered waterfront union.

The Waterside Workers' Union was de-registered by the government for backing an "illegal" strike which has lasted since February.

Four windows of the Wellington home of the secretary of the Federation of Labor, K. Baxter, were smashed with stones Wednesday night.

Mrs. Baxter, who recently left hospital, was alone in the house. Her husband was attending a Labor Party conference.

Russ Papers Note Diplomats Missing

MOSCOW (Reuters)—Moscow newspapers mentioned the two missing British diplomats—Donald MacLean and Guy Burgess—for the first time today.

The headline "Disappearance of two employees of the English foreign ministry" appeared in Pravda, Izvestia and other newspapers over a 27-line Tass dispatch from London.

Wharf Project Is Studied

DUNCAN—Possibility of constructing an assembly wharf at Cowichan Bay, as suggested in a brief submitted by the Duncan Chamber of Commerce was investigated today by the federal works department engineers.

The engineers inspected plans prepared by Capt. Don Peck, who is responsible for the chamber brief, and visited the suggested location.

Capt. Peck's plans are for a wharf to be built with a wooden shell and filled with gravel. At Cowichan Bay dredging for gravel, he argues, would be economical and would improve the already excellent qualities of the bay as a harbor.

Norm Gourlay, vice-president of the Duncan Chamber of Commerce and W. W. Seymour, past president, accompanied the engineers on their inspection trip.

And Nothing Can Be Done About It: BY H. T. WINTER

Commons Gets Laws For Freight Rates Equality

OTTAWA (CP)—The government's legislation for cross-country equalization of rail freight rates was introduced into the Commons today.

The minister told the House the government plans to defer passage of the legislation, which implements recommendations of the Royal Commission on Transportation, and have the subject matter of the measures sent to the House railway committee for study.

This would indicate passage would not be sought before the fall session.

Asked if the committee would consider the bill during the brief remainder of the current session, Mr. Chevrier said that was up to the committee itself. His three bills were given first reading today.

Chief provision in the legislation is to lay down a "national freight-rates policy" declaring that generally railway tolls in all parts of Canada must be the same for the same types of service.

U.S. Losses In Korea 70,317

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U.S. casualties in Korea reached 70,317 today, an increase of 1,965 since last week. A defense department summary based on notifications to families up to June 8 reported 10,432 killed, 48,133 wounded and 11,752 missing in action.

The wounded total included 1,231 who have since died and 104 of the missing are known dead, raising the combat death toll to 11,767.

Of the missing, 1,284 have since returned to U.S. control and 153 are prisoners of war, leaving 10,211 now missing.

Twisters Hit W. Texas, Virginia; Leave 50 Hurt

Red Cross Sets Up Shelters At Richmond To Care For 100 Families Driven From Homes

By UNITED PRESS

A tornado injured 50 persons and caused severe damage at Richmond, Va., last night and another twister struck in west Texas.

Turbulent weather loosed crop-destroying dust clouds, hailstorms and flashfloods on wide areas of Oklahoma and Texas.

The Red Cross set up two shelters in Richmond to aid 100 families who were driven from their homes. Four hundred cots and 800 blankets were rushed to the scene along with food for the refugees.

None of the injured at Richmond was hurt seriously but hospitals were busy treating cuts and bruises suffered by residents.

The tornado, described as a "baby" twister, smashed through an area of Richmond 20 blocks long and 20 blocks wide. It left a trail of unroofed houses and broken power lines in its wake.

During the 20-minute storm, the roof was torn from the nurses' home at Grace Hospital where all windows were smashed. One falling tree smashed a station wagon but the five occupants escaped unhurt.

The Texas tornado struck open country near Floydada, scooping up tons of dirt as it plowed over the fields. When the twister was dispelled, clouds of dirt showered down on the area.

Nelles, 'Canada's Greatest Sailor,' Dies In Hospital Here Age 59

Frequently called "Canada's Greatest Sailor," Admiral Percy Nelles, C.B., LL.D., who had lived in Victoria since his retirement in 1945, died Wednesday in St. Joseph's Hospital. He was 59.

Admiral Nelles succumbed to an illness of several weeks.

The first Canadian to hold the rank of full admiral, Admiral Nelles was the son of one of Canada's leading First World War soldiers. His father was Brig. Gen. Charles M. Nelles, who served in the Northwest Rebellion in 1885, the South African War, and the Canadian Expeditionary Force from 1914-18.

Percy, the general's only son, was born in Brantford, Ont., in 1892. He was educated at Lakefield Preparatory School, Peterborough, Ont., and at Trinity College School, Port Hope, Ont.

When he was 16, his father called him in and asked: "Well, what is it going to be?"

Royal Military College—or 'the navy?'—

Two years later he was a midshipman, and from 1914 to 1917 he served with the Royal Navy as a lieutenant. Then he returned to Canada as flag lieutenant to the late Admiral Sir Charles Kingsmill, Canada's Chief of Staff, who attained his admiral's rank on the Royal Navy's retired list.

He rose swiftly, to lieutenant-commander in 1922, commander in 1925, captain in 1933, and commodore first-class in 1934. In 1938 he was appointed rear-admiral. During that time he attended the Royal Naval Staff College and the Imperial Defense College in England.

He became Chief of Naval Staff in 1934 and held that post until 1944, when he was made senior flag officer in London, England, with general oversight of all Canadian naval forces overseas. It was a war move, one designed to fit into plans for the impending invasion of Europe. A year later he retired.

SAW BIG GROWTH

Under his leadership, the Canadian navy grew during the war from 2,000 men and a dozen ships to 90,000 men and more than 500 ships. He headed the navy when it was separated from the defense department in 1939 and made a department with its own minister.

A stocky, genial man, Admiral Nelles won honors from many countries. France made him a commander of the Legion Of Honor; the United States, a commander of the Legion Of Merit; Norway gave him the Cross Of Liberation.

He was married in 1915 to Helen Schuyler Allen of Bermuda. His widow and two sons, Charles and William, survive.

Mayor George First Victorian To Head Canadian Federation

Mayor Percy George is the first Victoria mayor ever to be elected president of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities now meeting in London, Ont.

Mayor George, who is expected back in the city about June 19, was elected Wednesday and now holds the twin positions of chairman of the Union of B.C. Municipalities and federation head. He was elected to the U.B.C.M. in 1948 and again in 1950.

Nurses' Strike Still Ties Up Town Hospital

SHAWVILLE, Que. (CP)—Medical routine went quietly on in the wards of Pontiac County's big community hospital today, but its doors were closed to all but emergency patients.

Otherwise there was little evidence of the administrative storm which broke Friday about its red-brick walls with a brief walkout of the nursing staff in a dispute which stirred this lumbering and dairying community of 1,500 people.

All but two of the nursing staff of 14 left the hospital and its 30 patients—including three babies—Friday. They were doing as they had threatened to do if the hospital's board of directors did not relent in the summary dismissal of 35-year-old Mrs. Irene Benny, superintendent of six months.

But they were back in three hours—And some patients said they didn't even know the nurses had been away.

Eight doctors from Shawville and district met with the dismissed superintendent and a number of nurses Friday. They called a public meeting for June 26, inviting the 75 members who make up the general board of the Pontiac County Hospital, a non-profit company incorporated under the laws of Quebec.

Named regional chairman Wednesday was Mayor E. C. Westwood of Nanaimo.

Mayor George started his civic career when he became a member of Victoria School board in 1931. He served until 1938 as member and was chairman until 1940. He served on the city council 1941 to 1943 and was elected mayor in 1945.

He has also been president of the B.C. Trustees' Association and about the same time was elected vice-president of the Provincial Parent-Teachers' Association.

Ald. George Miller of Vancouver, a former mayor, was one of five men receiving honorary life memberships of the federation at the closing session of its 14th annual convention.

B.C. men on the national executive are Ald. Miller and Mayor M. G. Stubbs, Nelson. Regional chairmen include Mayor E. G. Fletcher of Trail; Mayor F. H. Jackson, New Westminster; Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games, Kelowna; Mayor Westwood; Mayor Garvin Dezell, Prince George.

COULEE DAM IRRIGATION PUMPS START

COULEE DAM, Wash. (AP)—Forty-eight states and two territories will help this little town today celebrate the starting of a tremendous pump that heralds the development of a 1,000,000-acre farm centre.

The pump is the first of a dozen, each 12 times as big as any ever built before. They will feed water from the Columbia River to higher land 60 miles to the south in the Columbia Basin irrigation project.

Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman, speaking by remote control from his desk in Washington, D.C., will give the word for the pump to begin lifting 8,000,000 gallons of water a minute 280 feet up the river's bank.

Gillies Denied Appeal On Fraud Conviction

VANCOUVER (CP)—Although he talked a dozen Vancouverites and Victorians out of more than $19,315, Clyde Gillies, 42, failed Wednesday to talk the Court of Appeal into reducing his imprisonment from 10 to seven years.

"You are a pretty smooth talker, but I feel that you are a menace to society," Mr. Justice O'Halloran told Gillies.

"You talked these people into handing their money over and you have talked yourself into thinking you are not guilty, although you pleaded guilty in police court."

"You could have been given five years for any one of these individual frauds, ranging from $50 to $4,265."

"I see no reason to make magistrate Mackenzie Matheson's sentence of three years concurrent with the seven years you were given in Victoria.

Gillies said he had been sentenced by Mr. Justice Macfarlane in Victoria to terms totalling seven years for conversion of $9,000 and frauds involving $9,500.

Scanning the list of 12 Vancouver victims, Mr. Justice Sidney Smith told Gillies to note what humble people they are.

"You must have caused them untold misery."

4 Of Trenton Six Innocent

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—A Mercer County court jury today found four members of the Trenton Six innocent and two guilty of the 1948 murder of an elderly shopkeeper.

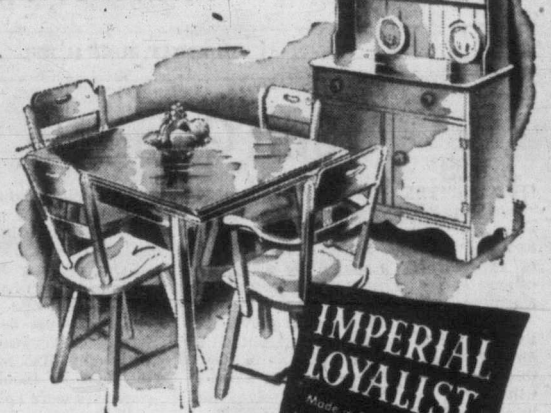

The jury of six men and six women recommended mercy for the two defendants found guilty. This means life imprisonment.

The jury found Ralph Cooper and Collis English guilty of first-degree murder with a recommendation of life imprisonment at hard labor.

They found McKinley Forrest, John McKenzie, Horace Wilson and James Thorpe innocent.

This was the third trial of the six negroes and the longest in New Jersey history. It dragged through nearly 15 weeks and 11,000 pages of testimony.

Still Going Up

THAT LITTLE GROUP OF ABLE MEN which keeps the Canadian Senate alive has given the nation its first real anatomy of public spending. The chart of expenditures prepared by a Senate committee is a dull, important and alarming document.

It shows that the federal, provincial and municipal governments spent $12.2 billion in 1939 and $3.4 billion in 1949, the last year studied. (The 1951 figures will be far higher.) This involved an increase of 257 per cent in taxes. The population meanwhile had grown 20 per cent, while the production of goods had increased by 193 per cent. Taxes far outstripped both the population and the output of wealth which must support them.

The federal budget, of course, shows the largest increase. It stood at $1.2 billion in 1939 and at $3.7 billion this year. Next year it will rise by at least $250 million for the single item of universal old age pensions, and defense costs also may increase.

The swollen federal expenditure is due in large measure to the defense program. The provincial governments, however, though not responsible for defense, raised their budgets from $355 million in 1939 to $865 million in 1949. The 1951 figures, when compiled, will be far larger.

Old Chinese Custom

THE WEARY TALE OF COMMUNIST butchery in China lately contained one new and significant item. According to the official communist news services, all "counter-revolutionaries" are not being executed on sight. Mr. Lo Jui-ching, the public security minister, announces that in some cases the prisoners, though sentenced to death, will not be killed immediately but will be put to work. "From the economic point of view," says Mr. Lo Jui-ching, "those whose executions were postponed were also a source of labor for the state."

Thus, the communist government transplants another native Russian growth to Chinese soil. The system of state slave camps begins.

China has known it before, but not in modern times. The former Chinese emperors used to employ slaves to build their Great Walls to keep the barbarians out. Now the new barbarism of Russia is being welcomed in. Impoverished by years of civil war and now by the military expenditures of the existing government, China no doubt can use many slaves. The postponement of executions among the counter-revolutionaries is likely to increase as more laborers are needed.

The government is casting a wide and very fine net for its victims. Since the police cannot hope to catch all the enemies of the state the public is being trained in the work of domestic espionage.

In Chengtu, for example, the government put on a show to stimulate revolutionary zeal, executing a few sample reactionaries. "These steps," the radio says, "roused the masses, aggressiveness and brought many denunciations. One resident helped to arrest his brother-in-law, one his son; a woman reported her husband." The Mukden radio rejoiced that in Dalen "wives have reported their husbands, boys their elder brothers and daughters their father." In some cities "extermination committees" are being formed, street by street, to clean out the enemies of the revolution. Prizes are offered to informers.

The communists know what they are doing. The ancient institution of the family, the basic social unit and stronger perhaps in China than anywhere, stands in the way of the revolution. It must be broken down if the revolution is to succeed. The communists are determined to break it. But all such attempts, and the attempt of foreign conquerors to absorb China, have failed in the past. The communists are undertaking a formidable, perhaps an impossible job.

"Here's another funny thing. I find it genuinely restful to sit down and read in Blackwood's about active violence on various frontiers. It's such a welcome change from the thin tired grey smear of most contemporary living and writing. I am not cynical or tired myself. Far from it. But I don't like tired writing about tired people."

Beat Fire By Preventing It

VICTORIA'S FIRE LOSSES THIS year to date are amazingly low. A continuation of the present trend would make them even more favorable than those of last year, which placed the city among the most fortunate of centres of comparable size throughout Canada.

Sheer good luck might produce such a result when fire losses are computed at the end of 1951. Trusting to luck, however, is scarcely good enough. Rather than gamble on the issue, the city department now has a crew of 20 men conducting a house-to-house campaign throughout Victoria advising citizens of dangers that may exist and warning them against conditions which invite disaster.

Approximately 1,000 homes and other buildings have been visited to date. In virtually every case, the fire prevention crews have been given friendly receptions. That is the same attitude for the public to take.

Fire, like many other calamities, may occur in any home. Firemen, by the nature of their work, are acutely conscious of conditions which can cause it. They have, in most instances, seen too much tragedy to ignore such causes. They realize, too, that home owners frequently ignore safeguards because, without them, they have succeeded in escaping fire. With their backgrounds, the members of the prevention squads are in a position to issue the warnings, bring to a householder's notice certain dangers which he might have overlooked, and give practical hints on adequate preventive measures.

The way to beat fire is to avert it. That is the message the campaign is carrying to our people, house by house.

Revolution In Canada

MR. HOWE'S CHART OF CANADA'S future industrial expansion is a staggering document. During the next three years, he says, the federal government will spend $3 billion to build defense industries and private capital will provide $1.5 billion. Thus $4.5 billion will be spent on the tools of defense, an amount about equal to the nation's annual production before the last war.

Such figures are not easily grasped. Translated into physical terms they mean, among other things, the opening up of the vast iron resources of Labrador; the development of electrical power and the production of titanium in Quebec; a railway to tap the mineral wealth of northern Manitoba; the aluminum industry in British Columbia; the expansion of the chemical industry in many parts of the country; an increase in steel production by a third.

At the moment the purpose of this program is defense. For the most part the new machines and factories will produce goods which will go into weapons and which the public cannot use. This is necessary if the nation is to be made safe from outer attack.

But later on, when the defense program has been made good, and if we avoid war, the defense industries will turn out goods for the consumer. Even if most of their output is required for a generation or more in the manufacture of weapons some of it will be left over, as it increases, for civilian purposes. We are building a new industrial plant which will increase the wealth and eventually raise the living standards of the whole country. Mr. Howe's figures, in fact, are the chart of an industrial revolution, which already is well under way.

Chips Off The Old Brock

By DAVID BROCK

CARD OF THANKS

FOR some reason known only to his own good self, an acquaintance of mine writes to say he is subscribing to Blackwood's Magazine for me. Here is an extract from my reply to him: "Bless you for a Christian friend. As you've guessed, I adore Blackwood's. When I was young and foolish I made gentle fun of it for being too much the same each month. This was because I didn't read it. I didn't see that the sameness was only a very superficial pattern, and that each article and story deals with real lives, worthwhile lives, and often good wild lives, all of which differ from each other. "Maybe these lives are left over from an age when men were allowed to be different from each other. In any event, Blackwood's shines like a good deed in a naughty world. Oddly enough, it is quite full of good deeds, done by men who would cut their own throats before talking about their deeds."

"AND NOT only have these chaps seen things and done things... they almost invariably know what they are talking about. This is a rarer quality than you might think. And it gets rarer all the time. Most magazine stuff (and a great deal in books, too) is now written by the totally inexperienced, who imagine that all you need for writing is a typewriter, a wad of paper, a nearby library, an interview or two, and the desire to earn a living by writing. Crickey, it drives me wild. And if you say 'Don't you think there may be quite a lot of mistakes in your article?' they reply, 'No doubt. But don't you think it is interesting?'"

"They say each man has one good book in him... the story of his own life, or bits of it. I suppose this is true only if that life was worth living, and if he knows a little about how to size it up and express himself. At any rate, Blackwood's does skim some of such goodness off such men."

"A FAMOUS professor once said that the only book worth writing would be that written by a man the day after his library burnt down... he'd have to do it all out of his head and out of his experience then. I think Blackwood's knows this."

"I might add that this professor also wrote: 'One book among the rest is dear to me; As when a man, having tired himself in deed Against the world, and, falling back to write, Sated with love, or crazed by vanity, Or drunk with joy, or maimed by Fortune's spite, Sets down his Paternoster and his Creed.'"

"PERHAPS Blackwood's does not have many authors crazed by vanity or drunk with joy or who have even had much time to be sated with love. But in the background you can detect quite a decent bit of their Paternoster and their Creed. I use the word decent advisedly."

"Here's another funny thing. I find it genuinely restful to sit down and read in Blackwood's about active violence on various frontiers. It's such a welcome change from the thin tired grey smear of most contemporary living and writing. I am not cynical or tired myself. Far from it. But I don't like tired writing about tired people."

FAME I SEE that two University of California students (male) have set a new world's record for the see-saw or teeter-totter. They see-sawed for 72 hours without stopping. I hope they studied while see-sawing, but I fear not. For one thing, it would be hard to study while egged on (as these men were) with fire-works, bugles, sirens, and flares. For another thing, I can't seriously believe that a see-saw champ is much of a student. There is a certain frivolity about championship see-sawing that doesn't seem to go with deep study, somehow. Though it would have been far more frivolous, as well as much more fun, to have had a mixed team instead of a male one. In fact, anything in the world would have been more fun.

DILEMMA I FEEL a little sorry for the American Air Force Brigadier who was removed from his Korean command for failing to fly combat missions with his men. Without wishing to butt in on purely American affairs, I can comment on the fate of senior officers the world over. If they remain at their headquarters, where they usually belong, to direct things properly and to get a general over-all picture of an engagement, they are criticized for laziness or prudence. But if they go right up in front with the boys, to stimulate morale or to have some fun or to get a personal look at some detail of the war, they are then criticized for taking unnecessary risks, neglecting the main show, and all that. No matter which of these two courses a general thinks wiser for the benefit of his command, it will be his personal motives that get attacked.

ALL RIGHT, I WON'T PLAY DR. MALAN, Prime Minister of South Africa, has said that if the British keep on criticizing his treatment of the native problem, it will be necessary for him and his supporters to establish a republic. If he thinks that will end all criticism, I'm afraid he's very much mistaken. What a way to stop people talking!

MERE PADDING "MONEY is worthless stuff; don't heed That foolish dross." Why, no, indeed.

Still, the less it's worth, the more you need."

It seems to be as unwise... for the generals to intervene in international policy matters as it would be for the diplomats to try to lay down military strategy. -Lester B. Pearson, Canadian External Affairs Minister.

As Our Readers See It

NO ISOLATION

May I comment on Maj. St. Clair's article re Immigration and the Japanese. Truly they could be assimilated into the Canadian life if the government were to spread them over the country as it did during the last war. But we have surely learned our lesson from the Doukhobors and will not allow them to congregate in groups without regard to our Canadian way of life and laws. They are clean and industrious, but, if they are not willing to submit to our laws and our way of life, they will never become Canadians and should not be admitted.

IN REPLY

I did not intend to enter this correspondence again but I believe you will agree that it would be churlish not to attempt to answer the questions put by E. F. Watherston, especially as they are ones that arise in many thoughtful minds.

First, it should be remembered that no word has the same connotation in any two minds and in every discussion agreement as to meanings is essential.

"What exactly constitute a 'mature mind'?" To me a mature mind is one that tries to be always firmly and sweetly reasonable. It is free and therefore able to consider all aspects of a problem seeing both the serious and comic elements. Moreover, it knows that when minds are reasonable all problems in human relationships can be settled by frank discussion.

The gist of the second question is: Who is to say whether a mind is mature or not? This, I submit, each mind must decide for itself after considering the actions as well as the words of the mind in question.

As to the liability of human powers to decay. While physical powers wane with increasing years mental powers need not. Serenity comes to minds that are not exercised. "To cease to use the mind is to lose it." And, "Hardened ideas make hardened arteries." Consideration for others remains to the end with the mind that has consistently used the body's energy in the practise of fellowship, viz. the social concern which vanquishes fear, i.e. self-concern.

No mind knows when it is dead. "The tragedy of life is not that men perish but that they cease to live."

Does not the saying: "To live in hearts we love is not to die" express the true concept of immortality?

NON-SCOTS

An article dealing with local recruiting for the 27th (European) Brigade stated in part: "Capt. Sid Digby, of the Scottish, in charge of the local recruiting drive, said men will be accepted at the new office for the brigade generally with emphasis on recruits for the Scottish, seeking to form two companies. He said the response thus far was rather slow."

One reason for this "slow response" is that, in a community where the overwhelming majority of the citizens are not of Scottish racial origin, a Canadian Scottish battalion cannot be fully representative.

Why should the major portion of our local youth be expected to tag along with a hyphenated Canadianism and Canadianism? This is Canada, and we are Canadians: that ought to be enough!

Why do we not take a pattern from New Westminster and recruit a truly Victoria battalion, to be known as The Capital City Victoria's Own, with the dogwood flower as their floral emblem? Why was the old 88th Battalion disbanded?

WM. E. G. CRISFORD.

1511 Mortimer St.

SUBSISTENCE

My interest was aroused by an announcement on the radio that the average wage paid to workers in Victoria was over $51 per week. On top of that most trades are asking for advances, and also the civil servants who have been steadily employed; all saying that the cost of living had advanced beyond healthful subsistence at present incomes. We read in your valuable paper that our Provincial Cabinet is having a difficult job agreeing with the civil servants as to what advances will meet their demand, thus tacitly admitting that some advance is necessary. Now how much more urgent is it for them to decide how difficult it is for old age pensioners to subsist on $50 a month (less than one-quarter of the average wage), especially where only one member is eligible for the pension?

ERIC C. JAMIESON.

MILK DELIVERIES

Re milk deliveries. One of your correspondents ("Subscriber") suggests that a good plan would be to have an extra supply delivered every few days, instead of fresh milk every day.

I think "Subscriber" has lost sight of the fact that even in the cool climate of Victoria milk will not stay fresh and fit to drink without some kind of refrigeration for more than one day, and often not that, and I am probably safe in saying that the proportion of residents who have refrigeration is comparatively small.

Possibly "Subscriber" enjoys drinking or eating sour milk? Most of us do not. In summer, especially, milk should be delivered fresh very day to be fit to use.

MRS. JOHN DOE.

Cariboo Trail—Via The P.G.E.

By STUART KEATE

VANCOUVER—The 70 Vancouver and Victoria business men who toured the P.G.E. system last week went along on a show-me basis. They returned five days later as ardent champions of the line. It wasn't just the scenery, although that in itself would be enough to sell most anybody. It wasn't the efficiency of the line, although the timetable was met at every station. Probably it was the people they met along the way. From Squamish to Quesnel and back they encountered a friendly, hard-working bunch of Canadians who have something big and important to contribute to the economy. Together, they have formed the Cariboo Trail ("Just like the Atlantic Pact," grins Jack Kennedy), aim of which is to push the steel through to Vancouver, and thus find a southern outlet for their goods.

WHO'S TO BUY? The big question today is: what's going to happen to the P.G.E. once it's completed? Will the government continue to operate it? Or will it be sold to the C.P.R., the C.N.R.—or a combination of both?

It's no secret that Premier Byron Johnson got a frosty reception when he called on C.P.R. officials in Montreal a couple of years ago to discuss the line. Nor is it any secret that either of the national railways could run the P.G.E. much more economically than the B.C. government. The saving in bulk purchases of oil alone is estimated at a quarter of a million dollars annually.

Some members of last week's touring party found it significant that both big railways were well represented. The C.P.R. had three officials along, including Bill Manson, its able and personable new Pacific vice-president. The C.N.R. had two, including the popular "Barney" Allen, British Columbia manager. On the question of purchase, both these gentlemen were notably non-committal.

Some observers view the ultimate disposition of the P.G.E. as a major gambit in the struggle for control of Vancouver harbor. At present, the C.P.R. has the south side of the harbor pretty well sewed up. (Incidentally, it also controls Union Steamships, which presently provide the only link with Squamish.)

Meanwhile, the C.N., under dynamic president Donald Gordon, has been extending its north shore holdings east towards Dollarton and has access to the city via the Second Narrows bridge. Acquisition of the P.G.E. would not only provide it with a through link to Rupert and the north—shortening the present round-about route between Prince George and Vancouver from 701 to 466 miles—but would give it a strong competitive position on Vancouver's north shore.

In all such theoretical debates it is worth remembering, too, that the P.G.E. owns about two miles of north shore waterfront, up to Lonsdale, which puts it in a cosy bargaining position. This is perhaps the choicest piece of industrial real estate left on the harbor.

WEST VANCOUVER BLEAT

At present, there seems to be only two obstacles in the way of the P.G.E.: (1) money; and (2) a vocal minority of home-owners in the municipality of West Vancouver.

The West Vancouver concept—that the economic well-being of the rich Cariboo country can be impeded because a railway line might disrupt a few homes and gardens—must surely be one of the most selfish and short-sighted proclamations in recorded Canadian history. Estimates of the number of West Vancouver homes affected by completion of the right-of-way range from 150 to 500.

But these people knew when they bought their property that the right-of-way existed. Attempts in recent years to purchase or lease railway property have steadfastly been rebuffed by the P.G.E. The West Vancouverites built their homes, and tended their gardens (some of them, by the way, directly on the right-of-way) in the full knowledge that the line might be pushed through any day.

Now they are screaming to the high heavens. A well-organized lobby is spending large amounts of money in advertising in an attempt to buck the West Van. route. Board of Trade members who live in that community didn't mention the fact when they travelled over the P.G.E. last week. After all, the "Hangman's Tree" still stands in Lillooet.

DEFENCE NEED

On the question of money: an estimated $10 millions is needed to complete the Squamish-Vancouver link. Premier Johnson has lost none of his original enthusiasm for the project. He does concede, however, that credit sources have dried up drastically in recent months and much depends on the outcome of Mr. Anscomb's current safari to the dollar temples of New York.

At present, British Columbia is the only province in Canada without a north-south rail route, yet no other province is so vulnerable, defence-wise, in this respect. The turn of events in Asia—even the persistent needling of U.S. military and diplomatic authorities—could be decisive factors in hastening completion of this long-overdue project.

"In a pinch," said Jack Kennedy, "we could push her through in six months."

(This is the last of a series of seven columns on the P.G.E.)

For Critical Times

(Montreal Gazette)

DEFENCE MINISTER CLAXTON recently told the House of Commons that a tri-service communications system covers all of Canada and that it carries "95 per cent of all communications by telegraph or radio-telegraph between the three services." No estimate of the cost of operating this service was given by the minister, but he did stress how valuable it has been in times of civilian emergency, during the Fraser Valley floods, the Winnipeg floods and similar situations.

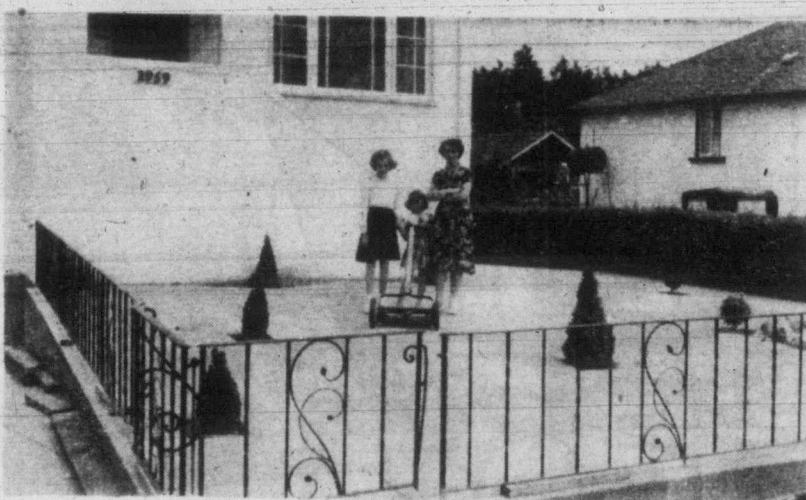

If the coverage of this service is large enough and its system efficient enough it could be an excellent, ready-made addition to our civil defense organization. This is an encouraging possibility.

London's Dock Clerks To End 10-Day Strike

LONDON (Reuters)—London's 1,464 tally clerks, who check the loading and unloading of ships' cargoes, went back to work today, ending a 10-day strike that had held up 107 ships.

Their strike had thrown about 10,000 longshoremen out of work and food cargoes amounting to between 40,000 and 50,000 tons were tied up, including about 14,000 tons of meat.

The tally clerks struck to protest hiring of 80 new clerks without being consulted.

Mrs. C. A. McCloskey and daughters are proud of their "grassless" lawn.

No Lawn Mowing For Mr. McCloskey

C. A. McCloskey, 2959 Tillamook Road, has attained his object in life... a grassless front "lawn" which thousands of Victorians dream about.

He will no longer have to push a lawn mower back and forth every week, spend hours weeding, watering and spraying and keeping up with the neighbors.

He solved the problem quite simply by paving his front lawn with a greenish cement.

The grass-green cement lawn would have looked lifeless without vegetation. So pockets were made in the pavement for plants. But why use flowers which are a lot of trouble, thought Mrs. McCloskey? So hardy shrubs were used for decoration. A cement fish pool was built as an added attraction.

Now Mr. McCloskey, his wife and two children relax every night and watch the neighbors mow and water, water and mow and weed. And the neighbors look over at the McCloskeys and think: "It takes an Irishman to think up these things."

Presbyterians Had Busy Time

OTTAWA (CP)—The 77th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, which was highlighted by demands for—and examples of—renewed vigor in the church, closed Wednesday night.

In the eight-day assembly, commissioners from 47 Presbyteries across Canada had:

1. Elected as moderator Rev. Norman D. Kennedy of Regina who conducted the assembly in an efficient manner.
2. Set up machinery for a $1,000,000 campaign for church extension.
3. Set themselves the task of raising another $5,500,000 for ordinary budgetary and congregational needs.
4. Accepted the responsibility of maintaining minimum stipends of ordained ministers.
5. Revealed the church's growing strength by a near doubling in church givings during the last five years.

Chinese Admit Anti-Reds Busy In Vital East China

Underground Armed Forces Create Critical Situation, Public Security Chief Confesses

HONG KONG (AP)—The Chinese Communists, in an amazing published report, concede that underground armed forces have created a critical situation in the vast and vital east China area.

The admission was in the form of a warning to the East China military and administration commission by its public security chief, Li Shih-ying, at a meeting in Shanghai March 10-16. It was published March 18 in the Shanghai newspaper Hsin Wen Jih pao received here today.

Li said political assassinations were increasing, the situation was "critical and widespread" and "the losses incurred by the people can hardly be estimated." He called for stronger anti-counter-revolutionary measures.

(The Chinese Nationalist Defence Military has charged the Reds have executed more than 1,000 Chinese in reprisal.)

2. Zig-zagged across the road.
3. Bumped pedestrian off the road, through a hedge and into a field.

Predicts Huge Cash Grant To Universities

Would Be Result Of Massey Commission

OTTAWA (CP)—A contribution of several millions of dollars to Canada's hard-pressed universities may be the government's first step towards acceptance of Massey commission recommendations for Canadian cultural development.

A statement to this effect may be made by Prime Minister St. Laurent within the next few weeks. The aid, in the form of capital grants, may reach the universities by the time their doors open for the new semester next fall.

Mr. St. Laurent, it was learned, already has asked government experts to estimate how much money would be involved in meeting the Massey Commission on Arts recommendation for expanded federal aid to universities.

A memorandum has been prepared, and this likely will form the basis for the government's final estimation of what the treasury can afford to pay out at this time.

In some quarters, estimates of what the government may contribute run up to as much as $7,000,000. This, however, may be trimmed by the time Mr. St. Laurent makes his expected announcement.

The Massey commission report, tabled in the commons two weeks ago, recommended two forms of federal aid — capital grants and scholarships. The first step towards helping the universities likely will take the form of capital aid.

Easy Does It There, Arnold—Easy

Standing at the edge of the crease on tiptoes, playing coach Arnold Ferguson of the Shamrocks bids for a rebound off Commandos' big Gordie Pogue in last night's Intercity Lacrosse League fixture at the Memorial Arena. Darrell Popham (11) has let the shot go.

No. 4 is New Westminster's Ian McDonald. Ralph Douglas and Bob Anderson are the other identifiable Commandos. Referee is Frank Lee. Pogue was one of the stars of the game in defeat.

Coleman's Column

By JIM COLEMAN

Jack Dempsey, who looks considerably healthier now than he appeared to be on that night in Philadelphia when he lost his championship to Gene Tunney, is going to stage another Novice Heavyweight Tournament in Toronto next September. Dempsey promoted a similar tournament in Toronto two years ago and the foundations of Maple Leaf Gardens were permanently damaged as large, reckless youngsters attempted to destroy one another within the sanguinary limitations of the Code Queensbury.

"Never had so much fun in my life," chortled the Old Manassa Mauler reminiscently as he made plans for his second tournament on a recent trip to Canada. "When I saw all those falling bodies, I was wishing I had brought along my portable air-raid shelter."

September's blood-letting is open to any strong-armed male Canadian who weighs more than 175 pounds and who hasn't boxed professionally. It is also understood that said male Canadian shouldn't be so old that he is wearing a long, white beard, right down to here.

Dempsey's first Canadian tournament, which was promoted in conjunction with Frank Tunney and Deacon Jack Allen, resulted in a very gay evening. The candidates were screened by a cattle inspector from the Dominion Department of Agriculture and, finally, 22, more or less, snarling gladiators were prepared for the ring. Two others were disqualified because they were detected wearing antlers. (Boys from the FAR West, no doubt.)

Hail The Conquering Heroes

For nearly four hours the customers cheered and jeered enthusiastically as large feet banged holes in the ring flooring and large padded hands zoomed through the air like flying saucers. As they say in the better publicity release, "there wasn't a dull moment, but there was many a dull thud."

The finalists emerged (if that's the correct word) in the persons of Eddie Zastre and Jack Herman, both fighting out of Montreal although Zastre's home town is Winnipeg.

Zastre, a hard-hitting 170-pounder, was guided by Mr. Sliktin, of the Montreal firm of Sliktin and Slotkin. (Mr. Sliktin is the partner who combs his hair with a damp sponge.)

Herman, who out-weighted Zastre by 30 pounds, had been "discovered" by Edmund Quinn, the Montreal boxing and wrestling impresario. Quinn discovered Herman holding up a Montreal tram with his bare hands while a repair crew ran a new set of wheels under the chassis.

Dempsey refereed that final bout and he had more than a passing interest in the proceedings because Quinn had sold him a "piece" of Herman.

Sleeping Beauty Sold By The Pound

Herman was belting the jabbers out of Zastre when, suddenly, Zastre threw a bomb that exploded on Herman's chin. Herman fell like a Douglas fir crashing through the underbrush. Any collector of fine photographs would have given his eye-teeth for a picture of Dempsey's face as he counted "ten" over his slumbering athlete.

Dempsey looked just as if he had seen his maiden aunt going by, driving a hearse at 75 miles per hour.

Herman's handlers stretched him out gently on a slab of ice and Quinn promptly sold him, on a poundage basis, to Harold Steinman, a pugilistic entrepreneur out of Chicago. Herman must have resembled very prime beef because Quinn is reputed to have received $2,500 for his unconscious investment.

Must Be That Western Air

Dempsey is hopeful that his second novice tournament will draw more entries from western Canada and the Maritime Provinces. Undoubtedly he has heard those stories from the British Columbia logging camps where the undergrowth is too thick for mechanized equipment and sturdy young men simply pull the trees out by the roots and carry them down to the salt-chuck on their backs. Or he remembers how Lynn Waldorf discovered Earl McCready on a farm at Amulet, Sask. McCready was plowing in a field when Waldorf drove past and asked: "Which way to Regina?"

McCready picked up the plow and pointed with the PLOW. Okay, boys—just send your entries to Jack Dempsey, Queensbury Athletic Club, 452 Church Street, Toronto.

But, don't tell your mothers!

Fulham-Beaters To Meet Brechin In Cup Match

The team that made soccer history by defeating Fulham will start against Brechin in the quarter-final of the Dominion Cup soccer series at Macdonald Park Saturday at 2:30.

Victoria United manager Tommy Restell announced that he would use the same line-up against Brechin that startled the soccer world by edging Fulham 1 to 0 last week.

Joe Travis will be in goal with Herman Henry and Joe Robbins guarding him from the full-back slots. The half-line will be composed of John Pickburn, Jack Robbins and Ken Williams. Wallace Milligan will centre a forward line composed of Den McGee and Stan Bob at inside and Bob Allen and Ab Travis on the wings. Sid Robbins, Cedric

Local Matmen To Appear On Friday Card

Two local lads will tangle in the opener of Rocky Brooks' second wrestling show at the Arena tomorrow night starting at 8:30. Lionel Speller and Tyke Myron will meet in a one-fall bout. Both fighters are well known in Victoria mat circles.

The special double event will match Ralph Garibaldi with Dr. Len Hall in the first half and Danny Plechas with Bob Geigel in the other half. Hall and Plechas in their first bouts here gained "bad boy" titles and are real crowd-pleasers.

Two light-heavies will meet in the semi-windup of the four-bout card. Danno McDonald and Cal Roberts making their first appearances here.

All servicemen will be admitted to the arena at a special reduced rate.

INDIANS SQUEEZE THROUGH

Propst Fails To Hold Tribe

Tuesday night it was 14 walks and four errors. Last night it was six stolen bases.

The result: the Athletics lost again at Spokane as the Indians ran the basepaths with abandon, winning 3-2. Jimmy Propst, fresh from two successive three-hit victories, did not have it last night, giving up 11 hits before retiring in the eighth in favor of Ron Smith.

It was the Indians' sixth straight victory. The A's made their bid in the first inning, scoring twice on three hits, a fielder's choice, and a Spokane boot but after this outburst they were thoroughly dominated by Indian hurler John Conant.

Spokane scored a run in the first inning as the first three batters singled. From that point until the bottom of the eighth they hung on to the short end of a 2-to-1 count.

SQUEEZE PLAY

Jim Wert scored on a squeeze play in the eighth to tie the score and three singles later the Indians were ahead to stay, 3 to 2. Propst gave up 11 hits and walked five in his mound stay. Conant's control was razor-sharp as he gave up only one free pass.

One ray of sunshine for the A's was the great play of the newly acquired third sacker, Jimmy Robinson.

The ex-Vancouver Cap infielder, batting in the lead-off spot, picked up three of the A's seven hits and handled three chances in the field without a muff.

The Athletics wind up the series with a single game tonight and then return home tomorrow for a three-game stand at Athletic Park with the Indians.

Dodgers Lead In All-Star Team Voting

CHICAGO (UP)—Duke Snider today became the fourth Brooklyn Dodgers candidate to move into the lead in the voting for the starting National League line-up in next month's annual all-star game.

Snider edged out Philadelphia's Richie Ashburn, 11,886 votes to 11,321. The other Dodger leaders are second baseman Jackie Robinson, catcher Roy Campanella and shortstop Peeewe Reese.

Nelson Fox, the Chicago White Sox's hard-hitting second baseman, continued as the leading vote-getter with 20,796 Robinson was next with 18,515.

Earlier returns moved Ted Williams, who suffered an early season slump, into the lead in the American League left field contest.

Sidney Blasts Oak Bay Squad

Sidney's juvenile baseball team came to town last night wearing their clouting clothes. They blasted the daylight out of two Oak Bay hurlers to hand the Bays a 21-4 setback at Beacon Hill Park.

Sidney pitcher Steele allowed only four hits and his teammate Peddie banged out a grand slam homer.

BROWNS' OWNER BROWNE OFF

DeWitt Flatly Denies Reported Sale Of Club

NEW YORK (AP)—No deal has been completed for the DeWitt's stock in the Browns, declared Bill DeWitt, president of the St. Louis American League Club.

The Browns president, however, declined yesterday specific comment on reports Bill Veck, former owner of the Cleveland Indians, is negotiating for the purchase of the club.

"We are not being forced to sell or negotiate or being forced to talk to anybody because of any debts and we did not borrow $600,000 recently from a bank," he said in commenting on a story by Joe L. Reichler of the Associated Press. Reichler said negotiations for sale of the Browns to Veck have been completed.

PERSONAL LOAN

DeWitt said he and his brother, Charles, owe the American League $300,000 but "that is a personal loan, not due until Feb. 1, 1954," and is entirely separate from the indebtedness of the baseball company.

The club debt has been reduced approximately $500,000 during the last three years, he added.

The club's chief executive further said:

"There is no stipulation in our loan agreement with the American League."

ROCKS ROUT COMMANDOS

Hmmph!...Says Jake Of Win

New Westminster Commandos are the second best team in the Intercity Lacrosse League. That is if the Shamrocks hold proper title to first place, and after last night's oppression of Jake Proctor—the ever-lovable—and his crew, there is little doubt of that.

Jake, who sometimes acts as unofficial spokesman for the Commandos, had little to say about the 14-to-9 mauling administered by the Rocks. As a matter of fact, it was just one word—"Hmmph!"

Just what "Hmmph!" means in Jake's language isn't hard to understand.

It means that the Commandos came to Victoria looking for blood; looking for the Shamrocks to be weary following their Tuesday night triumph over another good runner-up club—Combines; and looking for victory. And they went home barehanded.

ROCKS ROUGH, TOO

Though the Commandos cannot be accused of not living up to their name, the blood-letting was all theirs. The Shamrocks took all they had to offer, and gave more in return in matching them blow for blow, slash for slash, with five extra goals thrown in to boot.

Big Norm Baker was the favorite target of the visiting hater. But Norm just bided his time—four minutes of it in the cooler—until late in the final quarter.

BAKER ACTS

That's when Bob Anderson made the mistake Norm knew he would. Bob came in with his head down. The resounding thud as Norm hit Bob had nothing on the succeeding crash as Bob hit the cement.

That blow took the starch completely out of the Commandos, who until then were threatening to make a game out of a second-period Shamrock lead that was holding up through no fault of the Victoria defense.

Though it was in the second quarter that most of the extra-curricular festivities took place—referees Eddie Powers and Frank Lee dismally trying to recoup what semblance of control they were supposed to exercise over the proceedings—it remained for the final period to supply the lacrosse action, which, after all, the merits of two clubs stood to be decided upon.

The Rocks had gone through the first period on even terms with Jake and his boys. Tommy Druce had offset Bobby Brenner's opening marker and Anderson had duplicated the effort on Norm Coates' goal.

ROCKS ROLL

Then in the wild second frame, which only the officials can explain to the satisfaction of the 4,000 fans—and even then there would be some doubts, Duff Mc-

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor.

It was like any other morning. We were mugging up in the dirty spoon down the street with a fellow staffer when a wildly beckoning hand from the street attracted our attention. It was the acid-stained mitt of Bill Halkett, who is by way of being one of the photographers for this news source.

Bill was frantic. His eyes were just about popping through his horned-rimmed glasses while he leaped up and down on the sidewalk making like a monkey on a string.

"What's the matter with him?" my companion asked, before resuming our conversation about the Athletics. "Looks like he wants you."

"Could be," we answered, "but why all the convulsions?"

The wildly frantic figure continued its gyrations as the early morning sun reflected its stratus-softened rays off his bobbing noggin. Soon he was at the door.

"You're wanted back in the office at once," he yelled, "for a picture. And bring your tape measure."

"Tape measure," he replied.

"Yes, tape measure, and comb your hair, too. There are some Oak Bay High School beauties in the office and they want their picture taken, and you're nominated to provide the back-drop."

Three gulps of hot coffee, a short sprint (to keep up with the bubbling Mr. Halkett), a quick glance into the newsroom and we saw what our informant meant.

Oak Bay—First In Beauty

Clustered around the sports desk were a bevy of blondes, brunettes and redheads. Accompanied by teacher Ernie Costain, they were on a tour of the plant.

"The idea," said Bill, "is for you to sit behind the desk with the girls draped over you."

"How lovely," we thought, "but what if the missus hears of this?"

However, there wasn't much time for worrying over little things like that. Bill was back with his camera and directing operations feverishly.

"Show them a picture, make-up sheet, anything," he said. "And you girls, get closer. Real close. That's it."

By this time, jealousy at its inarticulate best reared its head. From the big brass rig down to the newest cub, who incidentally forgot his position for the moment and spent the better part of five minutes eyeing a blonde in a TV cut dress with more than passing interest and the next five minutes getting his eyeballs back in their sockets, all appeared on the scene.

Who Wouldn't Enjoy It?

It didn't deter Halkett one bit. "Closer," he said, to the girls, who by this time were enjoying the situation more than we would dare pretend to be. "Closer."

The scene was set except for one small incident which goes to show just how invidious some people can become.

It was the telephone which rang that momentarily brought us out of our ecstasy.

"What are all those girls doing in your office," the voice said. "Get them out of there at once."

"But dear..."

"Don't 'but' me. Get those girls out of there."

"Why he's blushing," the blonde said. And who wouldn't with 10, or was it 12, different varieties of Chanel No. 5 perfuming the tobacco-scented confines of the sports department and the voice of the widget's red-headed guardian giving orders.

Halkett was delicious.

"Never mind the wife," he said. "Okay, girls, get closer. That's it."

Halkett In All His Glory

"Now just one more," he continued, probably muttering to himself the while, "this'll fix you for all those night assignments!" And so 15 delightful and exhilarating minutes passed. But the worst was yet to come.

An hour or so later Halkett was back. "Wait till your wife sees that picture," he yelled. "Why, you're positively leering."

"They're not going to run that in the paper?" we said, trying to convince ourselves that it was only promotion, and anyway, the girls would like to see their faces in print.

"They sure are," said Halkett. "Just wait until you get home."

And frankly we can hardly wait. If you were in our position, with a wife and family, a story of diligent hours slaving over a typewriter, day in, day out, and your picture appeared in the paper as ours does on page 7, wouldn't you be anxious to get home and meet the little woman? Now, wouldn't you?

(The reason for the question mark is the page is that both news editor Dave Driver and informer Jim McKeachie are family men, too, and at a late hour today were still undecided whether to run the picture or not. And for good reason.) Ooops! It's in on page 13.

Six Pounders Qualify In Third Week Of Derby

By ROY THORSEN

Big salmon were not plentiful during the third week of the monster ladder derby of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association in Saanich Inlet which closed Tuesday night, derbyists winning weekly rungs with specimens going from 22 pounds 4 ounces down to six pounds.

Gordon Ball and A. Romano each won $50 scrip top prizes when they weighed in salmon of the same weight, 22.04 pounds. Bill Barnes won the $30 second prize with a 21-pound 4-ounce specimen, and Dick Lohr took the 20th prize with a 20-pounder.

All runs on the ladder were filled, many derbyists taking the gamble on small salmon holding a spot. All on the ladder have advanced to the master sheet to take part in the August 12 fish-off for the $2,700 car. The fourth weekly competition is under way. Following are those who qualified on the weekly ladder ending June 12:

Gordon Ball, 22.04 pounds; A. Romano, 22.04 pounds; Bill Barnes, 21.04 pounds; Dick Lohr, 20 pounds; J. Gilbert, 18.04 pounds; John Mohynaux, 18.04 pounds; A. Watts, 17.02 pounds; W. C. St. Louis Boxers Display Trophies

RAIN MAY BEAT BOXERS AGAIN

NEW YORK (UP)—Today's dubious weather forecast suggested the possibility of another postponement for the washed-out fight between somewhat washed-up Joe Louis and Lee Savold at the Polo Grounds tonight.

Rain, which began just before the weigh-in yesterday noon, should end "late today, and there should be a 'gradual clearing' tonight, the forecast said. It added "fair and warmer tomorrow."

The 15-round heavyweight contenders' bout between Louis, 37, and Savold, 35, was scheduled originally for last night, but wet weather forced a 24-hour postponement.

Should the weeping skies force a second delay, the "Battle of the Ancients" may be shifted from the Polo Grounds into Madison Square Garden for tomorrow night.

College Team Has Big Year Of Boxing

Over a period of one season Coach Louis Callan's St. Louis College Boxing Club have built up an enviable record. Under the capable supervision of the college's Brother McAnena, the club has had one of its most successful seasons in years.

Some of the club's most outstanding boxers have won two and even three titles. Len Thomas won the most sportsman-like-boxer award and the 112-lb. bronze gloves award in Vancouver. Fred Curtis was 118-lb. Golden Gloves champ. Phil Paul was runner-up in the 135-lb. Buckskin Gloves. Fifteen-year-old Bob Thompson was the first in the Vancouver and Provincial Golden Gloves 100-lb. division.

Maurice Spouse won the novice 70-lb. division. Brian O'Hare was 65-lb. Bronze champ, while Rusty Grapp was Bronze boy in the 70-lb. class. Ronnie Graham was first in the Vancouver Bronze Gloves 75-lb. division.

Farewell To 'Happy' Today

NEW YORK (UP)—Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler gets the ax today as the big boss of baseball by the same unanimous vote of team owners that put him into high office six years ago.

It will be a routine chop job. Chandler has known it was coming ever since the club owners repudiated him for a second time at Miami Beach, Fla., last March. Even his staunchest supporters have given up and will sign the "severance contract" with no further ado.

But Chandler still will have the last word. He will have to resign officially, but he has indicated he will do so soon.

Hall, on his return from Montreal, where he attended both National and minor league hockey meetings, said: "I had a long talk with Murph. He wants to come back to Vancouver very badly and I feel he deserves the chance to show us what he can do with a good hockey club."

Flatbush Heroes Turn Road Trip Into Rout

Home may be a man's castle but Brooklyn Dodgers are finding the road more fruitful than their Ebbets Field citadel.

The Dodgers, sprinting six games in front of the National League pack, are terrors on foreign soil. The darlings of Flatbush have won 15 games and lost only five away from home for a terrific .750 pace.

At home, where in the past few years they were pillars of strength, the Dodgers have won 18 and dropped 13, a respectable .581 gait.

The Dodgers, on their second tour of the west, made it two straight over St. Louis Cardinals last night 7-4.

Duke Snider was the big gun for the Dodgers. Snider pounded out four hits, a home run, double and two singles and drove in three runs to spearhead the Dodgers' 11-hit attack.

Snider broke up the game with a three-run homer in the fifth inning. The blow was his 14th and snapped a 3-3 tie. Young Tom Poholsky served up the pitch.

New York Giants remained in second place as a result of their 5-2 victory over Cincinnati Reds. Eighth-inning errors by Virgil Stallcup and Connie Ryan helped the Giants to score three runs and win the game.

American League action was restricted to one game. The Boston Red Sox defeated the Tigers, 2-0, behind the five-hit pitching of Bill Wight who went the distance for the first time this year.

MACARTHUR IN TEXAS

U.S. Policy Played

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur brought his anti-administration stand to the south's largest city today after drawing a record crowd at a Houston welcome parade.

His speech tonight in a 70,000-seat football stadium will give the deposed Far Eastern commander an opportunity to develop these arguments he voiced on arriving in Texas yesterday:

1. American policy makers are guilty of appeasement in Korea—appeasement that could lead to war with Russia.

2. The administration is guilty of "moral weakness" in talking of peace settlement.

MacArthur made his appeasement accusation from the steps of the state Capitol in Austin. About 20,000 Texans listened as the 71-year-old general declared America's first line of defense is on the Yalu River at the Manchurian border and not the Elbe River in Europe.

Garment Workers End Short Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—The work stoppage of 65,000 women's garment workers has been called off following settlement of disputed issues, the union announced late Wednesday. The workers returned to their jobs today.

The workers, who make women's and children's cloaks and suits, had quit work Tuesday.

The issues related to technicalities of employment conditions, rather than wages.

HOME GARDEN

by Jack Beastall

During the past month or so, Hilda and I have been asked on numerous occasions to suggest what might be the cause of garden crops and house plants failing to maintain a healthy condition.

Such a range of plants (and gardeners) have been covered, it is relatively easy to determine the points of culture which present the most difficulty.

Undoubtedly, the greatest stumbling block is "feeding." To the question, "How frequently do you feed your plants?" the majority have countered: "What do you mean by feeding?"

The straight definition of the word is by no means altered when applied to plants; to feed means "to supply nourishment," and even the novice realizes that a plant cannot thrive without nourishment.

In the average garden soil there is a fair store of foods necessary to plant growth, and their availability depends on sufficient soil moisture being present. Therefore, the feeding of outdoor crops usually means the application of such elements of food as are shown to be lacking by the appearance of the plants.

When roots are confined to the limits of a pot, the plant becomes more or less dependant on an outside source of nourishment, and, in the case of old plants and those which have not received regular re-potting, they are totally dependant on the gardener for their sustenance. Thus, the term "feeding" means the supplying of elements which the plant is unable to obtain for itself. These elements may be either nitrogen, phosphoric acid, or potash, or a balanced mixture of the three.

Liquid feeding indicates that the stimulant is given in liquid form, and is used when immediate results are required. The amount of dry fertilizer to use in making a liquid is one teaspoon to one gallon water, and is applied about every 10 days. Liquid manure and soot water is made by hanging a sack of dry material in a barrel of water for at least 24 hours, and diluting the liquid to the color of pale tea.

New Political Party In India Out For Nehru's Scalp; Issue Domestic

By SELIG S. HARRISON

PATNA, India (AP).—Prime Minister Nehru's chief political foes are gathering here to seek his downfall, though they generally approve his neutral foreign policy. They are gunning for him on domestic issues.

This is the founding convention of a new political party, born of dissension in Nehru's ruling Congress Party. Committees on platform issues and party organization have already begun work in preparation for the general sessions this week-end, which are expected to draw 1,000 delegates.

Socialist leaders will attend the sessions by special invitation to plan a joint strategy in the country's first general elections late this year.

There is dissatisfaction and unrest among India's masses. Nehru's opponents will try to pin on his party the blame for high prices, shortages of food and clothing and blackmarketing.

While Nehru's name and its entrenched organization probably will carry the Congress Party to election victory, observers foresee the emergence of a substantial parliamentary opposition for the first time since India won independence from Britain in 1947.

Except for the Communists and a tiny pro-American segment, no group in India favors lining up with either the Western or Russian camp.

Slur On Press Resented

OTTAWA (CP)—Senator W. J. Buchanan, publisher of the Lethbridge Herald, said Wednesday he resents suggestions that newspapers alone are subsidized by the government.

The Liberal senator from Alberta spoke before the senate gave second reading approval in principle to a bill amending the Post Office Act, and providing for an increase in the postal rates on newspapers and publications.

Senator Buchanan said he was speaking because he resented suggestions that newspapers and no one else are receiving subsidies.

He took the floor after Senator Thomas Reid (L-British Columbia) said he wished to protest against the post office department "subsidizing" newspapers to the extent of $12,000,000 a year through low postal rates.

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA (AP)—A patrol leader on a reconnaissance mission told his men he knew a sure way to tell a North Korean from a South Korean.

His answer was a burst of rifle fire.

"You see, men," he told his patrol, "that's how to tell them apart. Just stick your neck out."

Overseas Men Get Income Tax Relief

Dollar A Day Remission For Every Day Served, Announced By Mr. Abbott

OTTAWA (CP)—Income tax relief for Canadians fighting the Korean war has been proposed in the House of Commons by the government.

A non-partisan discussion on the budget taxation bills as they affect fighting men in Korea brought an amendment Wednesday to give them a dollar-a-day remission of income tax payments for every day they serve there.

This would exempt many soldiers entirely and is a formula which may be extended to Canadians serving in any future war theatre.

Many members had protested against making fighting men pay income tax and the government, while against the idea of setting up any privileged income-tax-paying class, had indicated an open mind from the start.

WILL BENEFIT MOST

Finance Minister Abbott, once a teen-aged overseas soldier himself, announced Wednesday that men serving in Korea are going to be given an income tax credit of $1 a day for every day they serve there. He said it will exclude most of them from tax.

The new system means that if a man serves there 365 days he gets $365 knocked off his income tax. If his tax is more than $365 he pays the difference, if it's less he pays nothing.

The minister introduced the change as members considered alterations in the act brought about by the record budget caused by Korea and the defense preparations springing out of Korea. There was debate on a number of clauses but none on the most important one to the average Canadian—the one that means income tax deductions will go up 20 per cent July 1.

TO DATE BACK

Some members have urged combat pay for overseas troops. Others have plumped for higher exemptions from income tax.

The change would provide an additional exemption from tax of more than $1,900 to the lowest paid men. It would exclude from tax single men probably up to the rank of captain and married men of considerably higher rank.

Officials said later the credit will apply to any man who has served in Korea this year. Thus

by Oswald Jacoby

One of the most exciting hands I've seen this year came on an "extra" hand. Both sides were tied at the end of the normal eight hands, and one additional hand was dealt out as a play-off. The round would be won by whichever side got a plus score on this one hand.

The bidding was highly competitive, but also very tense. Neither side could afford to get stuck with a contract that could be set.

South finally became declarer at four spades, after much agon-

Note that if Sheinwald had discarded a diamond, South could have led the queen of diamonds to provide the vital tenth trick. If East had discarded a low heart, he could have been put in with a heart or a club to lead diamonds at the end. And if East had discarded the ace of hearts, South could have led a heart to make West lead away from his diamonds at the end.

ized indecision about whether or not to let the opponents try to make four hearts. West might have made that contract, but it would have been a very close struggle.

West opened the nine of clubs against four spades. East covered with the 10, and South won with the ace. South then proceeded to run off all of his seven spades. This created great problems for the defenders.

West's first discard was the jack of hearts, showing the nature of his holding in the suit. As soon as East failed to follow on the fourth round of trumps, each defender could count declarer's trump suit. It was apparent that he could win seven trumps, the ace of clubs, and dummy's ace of diamonds. The defense had to make sure that no tenth trick developed.

When South led his last trump, West came down to two diamonds and three hearts, while dummy reduced to three diamonds and two hearts. East could give only five cards and had to choose the right ones. With a discard still to be made, East held two hearts, two diamonds, and two clubs.

The East player happened to be my friend Fred Sheinwald, so the right decision was made—but only after much head shaking and muttering. He discarded the queen of clubs.

When declarer then led a club, Sheinwald took the king while his partner discarded a diamond. Now three hearts could be run to defeat the contract.

Western Europe Air Defense Weak

PARIS (Reuters)—Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, United States Chief of Air Staff, said here today that the air defense of Western Europe is not so strong as it should be.

Before leaving for Luxembourg he told reporters that he and the air chiefs of staff of Britain, France and Canada had been discussing here how to build up an adequate tactical air force in Western Europe.

Asked what retaliation the Allied air forces could make if the Russian air force attacked today, he said: "Obviously I would not advocate greater air power if I did not believe we would be in a safer position if we had more air power."

"The tactical air force of Western Europe is inadequate. The purpose of our meeting was, among other things, to find out how we could make it adequate." Air Marshall A. W. Curtis of the R.C.A.F. represented Canada at the meeting.

Maybe the picture comes from a magazine advertisement for a certain type of watch. I'm not sure of its origin. But somehow or other I've built up a vision of the graduate. It's a young man or young woman, wearing gown and mortar board, gazing clear-eyed into the future. The look is something like that of a person trying to see where the jet plane went. You can get impressions like that and they stay with you.

For me, that's the graduate. It doesn't remotely resemble Ernie, who's in tomorrow night's graduation ceremony. Ernie will probably be wearing a dark suit, no gown or mortar board.

And most likely you won't notice his clothes at all. You'll just see his grin. Ernie's built like a baseball catcher—which he is.

YOU DON'T picture him with a far-away look in his eye. He's down to earth. He's the kid who packed papers a couple of years ago and who appeared to see life in terms of batting averages and pick-offs at second base. At 17, the weight of wisdom doesn't bow his head or stoop his shoulders. You might think that the world to him is a swell place of sunshine, good meals, lots of ball games and eight hours a night of untroubled sleep.

It's all that much more to Ernie. He's leaving high school at the end of this term and he hopes to go to college. But what's a guy think of the future at that age? Or does he? He does.

Ernie figures he'd like to be a teacher. You ask why, thinking that he has an eye on security and a regular, if not a terrific, wage. That's what a lot of the experts are saying when they talk about the unidentified mass they call youth.

But they're not calling the shot for Ernie. He wants to do something. Teaching kids to him is doing something. You ask him, knowing he's a ball player, if he wouldn't rather catch for the New York Yankees and your question produces a sort of hungry look on his face.

THAT'D BE SWELL, Ernie agrees. But what, he asks, would you get out of it. You'd get the headlines, your name in the paper, he admits. You'd be playing before crowds, but when it was all over, what would you have done or what would you have done?

You point out, a little cynically, that men who catch for the Yankees pull in a lot of money as well as a lot of wide balls. Sure, says Ernie, but what's dough?

Just to be practical, you tell him it's the stuff that makes it easier to get along. It buys things. He'll agree with you, and he'll explain that he wants enough to live on and he doesn't want to be broke when he's old. But he wants to do something.

If you think back over the years, you'll recall that you wanted to do something when you were his age. At high school graduation, you may not have had the world by the tail, but you were fixing to get a pretty fair grip on it. You wanted to do something, something big, like working over the South Pole on a great expedition, following Curie and the scientists, or maybe writing the great Canadian novel.

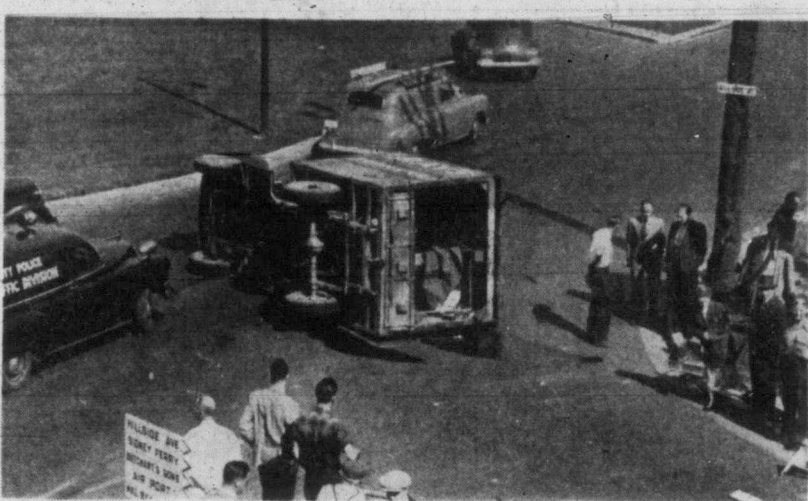

IT ISN'T UNUSUAL for a young man 17 to want to do something. It is a little unusual, though, to see it the way Ernie sees it. He's not dreaming of a cheering crowd in Yankee Stadium. He's not creating a vision of great wealth and power. He's looking at the future in terms of his contribution to it.

While a lot of people are talking about "this country's most precious asset" and virtually putting quotations marks around the phrase even when they only think it, Ernie's ready to dig in and help develop the raw material we have in our young people. He thinks about engineering and believes the number of boys going in for it will make an awful lot of engineers for the available engineering jobs. He's practical enough that way.

But he's not seized with the idea of making great physical monuments to the second half of the 20th century. He'd rather work with more malleable, more perishable stuff than steel and concrete and help to give it the strength steel and concrete never can attain.

ERNE DOESN'T phrase it that way. He even loses his grin and starts frowning when he starts putting his ideas into words, feeling, perhaps, that his point of view is private and shouldn't be exposed.

So you ask him, why a teacher? He tells you of a couple of men up at high school who've given him an example, teaching and being with the boys. You ask him how a guy of 17 gets so citizenship conscious. He tells you a couple of men up at high school get you thinking on those lines, too.

BUTTE LAKE CONTROVERSY

Govt. Would Avoid Fanfare At Hearing

By HARRY YOUNG
Times Staff Writer

CAMPBELL RIVER—The B.C. Government does not want much fanfare over the public hearing of objections to the damming of Butte Lake, members of the Associated Vancouver Island Chambers of Commerce were told at their meeting here today.

The statement was given by Roderick Haig-Brown, noted conservationist and author, who fired some heavy artillery in the "Battle of Butte."

Mr. Haig-Brown asked the delegates to support the objections to the power commission scheme.

"The government would like it to be a very little and a very quiet hearing," he said. "I hope you will see that the matter is fairly and fully examined and that key men in the B.C. Parks Division will be heard."

A protest against the B.C. Government's action of passing important bills late in the legislative session was voiced by Duncan Chamber of Commerce.

TAX ACTION TAKEN

The meeting also agreed to lodge a petition with the Dominion Government protesting against the proposed amendment to the B.N.A. Act which would provide for the levying by the provinces of an indirect tax on retail sales.

Sayward district urgently needed a policeman to establish law and order among 700 loggers working in the district, Harold Stafford, president of the Sayward Chamber of Commerce, told the meeting.

A resolution from Sidney that carried was "that the Dominion Government be requested to give immediate attention to the desirability of National Registration and to introduce selective compulsory training in the reserve forces."

The meeting was addressed by Public Works Minister E. C. Carson later in the afternoon, and the delegates then visited the new Elk Falls Paper Company site at Duhan Bay.

Grant Approved By Finance Body

Finance committee today agreed to recommend to council that a grant of $150 be made to the Spencer foundation, in aid of taxes on Spencerhouse.

The committee suggested to the Foundation that it contact the other municipalities to provide a share, which, if all contributed, would cover the amount needed to pay the taxes. Request was for $242.

Phone Rate Fight Gaining Momentum

Island Municipalities Supporting Victoria Protest At Proposed Hike

Association of Vancouver Island Municipalities meeting in Nanaimo is giving Victoria moral support in its protest against the B.C. Telephone Co. application for a rate increase, but the member municipalities apparently will not commit themselves to share the cost of the protest, it was learned here today.

Professor G. R. Elliott, Victoria College, retained by the city to investigate the application, discussed the company's brief at a closed session of the meeting Wednesday, but there was little response from delegates regarding financial support of the city's stand.

A. J. Patton, Victoria city solicitor, said today the city will protest all items it feels it can challenge successfully.

Reeve Sydney Pickles of Central Saanich, seeking more tax revenue from the B.C. Electric Brentwood power plant, won support of his resolution asking amendment of the municipal Act—"to allow municipalities the option of by-law to assess and tax such plants and equipment and collect trade license fees and business tax in the normal manner applicable to other business operations in the municipality."

The meeting also endorsed a North Cowichan resolution calling for the provincial government to reimburse municipalities the amount of current taxes when crown lands are held for reforestation.

PROTEST E. & N. PLAN

A resolution protesting discontinuation of the E. & N. Railway passenger service, reported to be under consideration by the company, won the support of all but eight of the more than 30 delegates present.

"The development of Vancouver Island must be considered," Mayor Loran K. Jordan, chairman, of Port Alberni, remarked. Following lengthy discussion a resolution was adopted to seek legislative approval to a requirement that civic employees' wage arbitration must begin at least 60 days before April 15, and finish by that date.

Mayor Earle Westwood of Nanaimo was elected president for 1951-52, with Reeve A. E. Beasley of North Cowichan vice-president and Howard Nicholson, Nanaimo deputy city clerk, as secretary.

Named to the executive were Ald. Waldo Skillings of Victoria, Mayor J. C. Wragg of Duncan and Reeve P. A. Gibbs, Oak Bay.

Bank To Handle Parking Meter Coins On Trial

Although they considered the 3 per cent charge too high, finance committee today agreed to have the Bank of Montreal handle counting and depositing of parking meter coins for a three-month trial period.

"Three per cent is too much; I don't think you struck a very good bargain," Ald. Waldo Skillings told City Manager Cecil Wyatt.

"Neither do I," Mr. Wyatt replied, but he added that until the experiment was made and studied he felt value of it would not be known.

Possibility that the Greater Victoria Civil Defense Control Board may get the upper floor of the Begg building at the corner of Yates and Quadra, for storage of supplies and other uses, was seen at a meeting of finance committee today.

NATURE PLAYS TRICK ON WEATHERMAN

Nature played a trick today on the weatherman on Gonzales Hill who had forecast a possible heavy rainfall for Victoria area late this afternoon to relieve drought-stricken crops on southern Vancouver Island.

The storm which formed off the island Wednesday grew in size but just as it was on the move it shifted and petered out, due to high pressures along the coast.

"That was the end of the storm," sighed the weatherman, "and the rain that was to be."

"That means more sunny weather," he moaned. "I guess those plants will have to go thirsty for at least another 48 hours."

Still Count Ballots In Strike Move

Labor Relations Board officials late today were still counting ballots cast Wednesday night in a government-supervised strike vote by members of Local 1163, Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers (A.F.L.-T.L.C.).

"We may not have the result until late tonight or tomorrow," one official said.

Members threatened to strike unless employers at the 13 certified shops affected make a new wage offer that is closer to the 25 cents an hour increase the painters are seeking.

The painters requested the strike vote two weeks ago after rejecting terms of a majority conciliation report, which recommended they settle for an increase of 12 1/2 cents.

Victoria Master Painters' Association, bargaining agent for the contracting firms, also rejected the report.

Soldier Admits Robbings; Residents Ask Protection

Weight was added to the demand of View Royal, Colwood and Langford people for more R.C.M.P. protection when Ralph P. Barrett, 19, of 119 Battery, R.C.A., Gordon Head camp, pleaded guilty in police court to three charges of breaking and entering business establishments in that area.

Barrett, a soldier for seven months, pleaded guilty to forcibly entering Markle's clothing shop Langford, the View Royal Pharmacy and the View Royal Garage. His gains were slim, 38 cents from one place, $4 worth of goods from another and nothing from the third.

The charges were made against Barrett after he and Gunner Patrick John Steele, 19, of the same battery, pleaded guilty to a joint charge of stealing an auto owned by Peary Singh, Highway Sawmills Ltd., on Monday. They pled the car up on the Malahat's Tunnel Hill.

The men were remanded to June 19 for sentence. Magistrate H. C. Hall asked for a probation officer's report on both accused.

R.C.M.P. top officials here said today there was no truth to the rumor that the force was planning to establish a detachment in the area where the thefts were committed.

There has been a notable increase in shopbreakings in the three districts during the last few years, the Victoria Daily

'WATERS BOIL WITH FISH'

A. J. Corlett, of Victoria, en route home after a trout fishing trip to the Alberni, in passing by Qualicum Beach Wednesday saw the waters off the holiday resort literally boiling with springs and coho. He only had trout tackle and a No. 4 Tom Mack spoon but caught four nice fish. Corlett reported that commercial boats were having a hey-day. He saw one come in with 105 salmon and another with 75.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Don't Give Up Ship, Pop! You Might Get Mower, Yet

By PENNY SAVER

Some people interview big time movie and TV stars. Meet someone who's had a two-and-a-half-minute talk with another star, at least, he will star, come June 17, on father's own day!

My star was a Mr. John McKenzie. His age? Well, the time of life when you retire and just begin to enjoy watching others spin on three wheels.

The scene of interview was a well-trimmed lawn of yours for the little old sum of $129.50!

"On the other hand," continued Mr. McKenzie, "I would settle for a lawn mower like this."

"This" was a neat little $19.95 mower with rubber wheels, roller and handle grips, and an item a budget might stand.

Although I could have spent a longer time chatting with the charming couple, I could see that they had more shopping to do, so with a wish "hope-you-have-a-happy Father's Day," I made my farewells.

Traveling around a mite farther, I found a magnificent chess set.

The set is a copy of Florentine design and the plastic black and white or black and red chess pieces have "character." The pawns are the crusaders and the knights are mounted on rearing horses.

The figures of king and queen are very real-looking people. I imagine, with a chess set like this beauty, you'd not get Pop out of the living room for months.

State Funeral For Labor Ex-Premier Of Australia

CANBERRA (AP)—Australia mobilized its pomp and ceremony today for the state funeral of former Prime Minister Joseph B. Chifley, a Labor Party leader of simple tastes. Chifley, opposition leader since his party's defeat in December, 1949, died Wednesday night in the midst of Australia's celebration of her 50th anniversary as a Commonwealth. The government canceled jubilee events for the rest of the week.

He will be buried with a state funeral Sunday at Bathurst, New South Wales, his home town 150 miles west of Sydney. His body will lie in state at Parliament House in Canberra, then will be flown to Bathurst to lie in state at the Roman Catholic cathedral there.

Mrs. Chifley, at their Bathurst home, collapsed when told of her husband's death. They had no children.

AN E. B. EDDY PRODUCT

VICTORIAN SPRING

by Cecil Maiden

A Hurdy Girl did not wait to be asked to dance. She was at liberty to sell her dances where she chose. Several of the men had been watching Letty. Some of them were even at that moment crossing from the other side of the saloon towards her. She saw that most of the other girls were already dancing.

She went up to the man with the bear. She had little fear that he would recognize her. On that night at the theatre he had not arrived while she had been out on the stage itself: his eyes, in any case, had been otherwise occupied. His face was still averted. He was still absorbed in the scene before him, his back to the bar, one elbow leaning on it, the other needed for the glass he held. He looked contented and at ease—content rather than watch than to participate.

Letty had been with the other girls long enough, now, to know what to say, how to act. And perhaps, in contrast with so many English one attractive.

"It's a good tune, this one!" she said with a smile, and his pale blue eyes turned and appraised her, falling swiftly over her body then moving back to her face.

"Too good to waste leaning against a bar you mean, eh?"

"And you look like a good dancer, too, sir."

He studied her for a moment, then put down his glass. "If you put it that way, lady—a gentleman could hardly do anything else!"

He stepped away from the bar and offered her his arm. Without the slightest hesitation she took it, and threading their way through a knot of men who were standing over one of the gambling tables, they moved out on to the cleared portion of the floor where all the rest were dancing.

The small space was crowded, for not only had all the other Hurdy Girls acquired partners of their own by now, but many of the men, well-liquored and well-intentioned, were dancing clumsily with each other.

Jake Larrett held her closely. He did not need any excuse provided by the waltz they were playing to pull her tightly to himself at each corner. It was not easy, she realized, to avoid the thick smell of brandy and dried river-mud that he had not troubled to brush very thoroughly from his faded suit. It was even a little more comfortable when she was closer to him, for she could then turn her head away without the purpose of such a gesture becoming too obvious.

A glance at one of the other Hurdy Girls, dancing past with a big Australian, reminded her suddenly of Amy. And thinking of case, had been otherwise occupied.

Amy, she was hotly conscious of something she had quite forgotten—this man's relationship to the small, happy-faced baby, in that home-made cradle.

The hand so tightly pressed against her waist was, according to Amy's conviction, the hand that had killed Limey Bill. Instinct told her that this was fact. But Amy had no more legally accepted proof of it than she had herself. Only a written confession, or a spoken one in front of witnesses, would suffice for that. She had known this all along.

Now, if she was to succeed,...

"Like to know something, sweetheart?" He must be looking down at her, for she could feel his breath on the top of her hair as he spoke.

"What is that?" she asked, glancing up at him.

"You have the other girls licked hollow! Half as big but twice as beautiful. And you can dance real pretty!"

"Perhaps it's my partner?"

She could not, in sudden revulsion, give him the name "Letty." She told him her other one. "Jane," she said.

"And anything but a plain Jane, eh?"

She made an attempt to laugh with him. "If we didn't look our best, we'd hardly get any customers, sir."

"Come, now. You don't have to 'sir' me, do you? The name's Jake."

They danced in silence for a moment or two. She asked one of the questions closest to her mind. "I haven't seen you in here before, have I, Jake? Working a claim here?"

"Aiming to. Only just arrived."

The waltz stopped, and there was a rough burst of applause. (To Be Continued)

Shorter Working Week Will Cost Railways Heavily

OTTAWA (CP)—The 40-hour week for rail employees will cost the two big Canadian railways an estimated $35,240,000 a year, the Board of Transport Commissioners was told Wednesday.

The board heard this evidence as it continued hearings on an application by the railways for a 15-per-cent increase in freight rates to cover costs of the short work week that went into effect June 1.

Earlier, the board had been told it would cost the Canadian Pacific Railway $14,442,000, and today the Canadian National Railways said the larger system's wage bill would go up by $20,798,000.

WOULD TOAST JUNE BRIDES IN LEMONADE

TORONTO (CP)—The world president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union Wednesday urged substitution of soft drinks and fruit juices for cocktails and other alcoholic beverages at June weddings.

Mrs. Forrester Paton of Aliso, Scotland, speaking at a luncheon in her honor, suggested: "Why not a soft drink list as well as a wine list in our eating places?"

Easier Loans For Fruit Men Urged

OTTAWA (CP)—O. I. Jones (C.C.F.-Yale), urged the government Wednesday to exercise more leniency in the granting of farm loans to British Columbia fruit growers who have lost their trees through frost.

He told the commons that the farm loan board is turning down applications from Okanagan Valley growers applying for loans to help them get re-established.

He suggested the government instruct the board to make "generous" loans on the basis of the character and ability of the applicant, rather than on his assets. The growers wanted to remain on the land, but needed help.

MEDIAEVAL GUILD URGED

Would Be Press Watch-Dog

LONDON (AP)—The chairman of the Press Association suggested Wednesday that the British press set up its own group as its spokesman as an alternative to a government-proposed "watchdog" press council.

The suggestion came from C. T. Barton, who also is managing director of the Leicester Mercury, at a luncheon preceding the annual general meeting of the Press Association, domestic news agency owned by Britain's newspapers.

Barton suggested that a lively company—the Worshipful Company of the Press—be organized by existing press groups. A lively company is the modern version of the mediaeval craft guild.

Two years ago, a royal commission of the press recommended setting up a press council to act as press "watchdog."

'WAYWARD BUS' 2 HOURS LATE; DRIVER GOT LOST

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—A Greyhound bus carrying 12 passengers from Chicago to South Bend arrived two hours late Wednesday. No one seems to know just exactly where it had been.

The driver was clipping off the miles along northern Indiana when strange scenery started showing up. The driver stopped twice for directions. The next thing he knew he was in Michigan. He got started in the right direction again but later he stopped a truck driver to get relocated. This time he made it to South Bend.

Aussies Campaign For 35-Hour Week

MELBOURNE, Australia (Reuters)—The first shot in what could develop into a drive for a general 35-hour work week throughout Australia is due to be fired soon.

Despite appeals for greater production to overcome increasing inflation, Australia's biggest union, the 183,000-member Australian Workers' Union has asked the arbitration court to grant a 35-hour week for gold miners in Victoria and Tasmania. This is meant to be a test case.

Then in September, the union will ask the court to approve a 35-hour working week for 35,000 union building workers throughout Australia.

The A.W.U. move has not been supported by other Australian unions, who argue the time is not opportune for a general reduction in working hours.

But some union officials believe it is the beginning of a campaign which will eventually result in a general reduction in working hours. Many unions, they add, are making a 30-hour week their objective.

Any move to reduce working hours will meet strong opposition from employers' organizations, which are clamoring for an immediate review of the 40-hour week granted by the Arbitration Court in 1947.

There are said to be some 6,000 different kinds of insect pests, which take a tremendous annual toll from the food supply of the world.

BAREFOOT GIRL HAD RED CHEEK

LOS ANGELES (AP)—

Barefoot Emily Sanchez, a New York girl, stormed into a police station and said: "I don't like Los Angeles."

She reported the theft of $900 worth of clothing from her car—including her shoes.

Missionary work in the Pacific began with Magellan's visit to the Philippines in 1521, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Road Deaths Top War

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman said today that "casualties" in Korea total less than 80,000. He used the figure to point up a call for a drive against carnage on the highways which left 1,035,000 dead and injured in the U.S. last year.

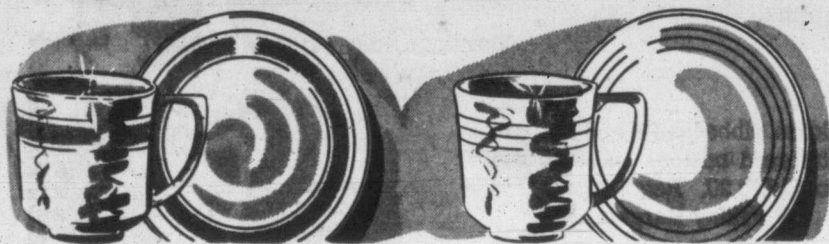

damage to the defense effort as a deliberate act of sabotage by hostile agents."

WALL SPACE NEEDED

LONDON (CP)—Suburban Croydon County Council is unable to find wall space in the town hall big enough to hold a large panel depicting scenes of wartime London bombing. The panel, presented by a Midland firm, is more than 15 feet long.
